Site Manager | Dublin

- Join a leading international contractor with major projects across Europe
- Work on large-scale construction projects including hyperscale data centres
- Excellent career development, training, and competitive remuneration on offer

Our client is a highly regarded international construction firm delivering major projects across Europe. Due to continued expansion, they are currently seeking an experienced Site Manager to join their team on a significant construction project in Dublin.

As Site Manager, you will be responsible for managing on-site activities, ensuring efficient, safe, and high-quality project delivery, while coordinating subcontractors and direct labour. You will work closely with the Project Manager and senior leadership team to achieve programme and budget targets.

Site Manager Responsibilities:

- Management of subcontractors and site personnel to ensure smooth delivery of project activities
- Plan and monitor daily and weekly work schedules to ensure progress aligns with overall project programme

- Coordinate and attend site meetings to maintain project alignment and resolve site-based issues
- Ensure works are completed to the highest standards of quality, on time and within budget
- Implement effective site management practices to maximise efficiency and minimise waste
- Provide safety leadership and promote a strong health and safety culture on-site
- Ensure compliance with quality and safety standards at all stages of the build
- Work closely with the Health & Safety Department and Senior Management to protect the interests of both company and client
- Prepare site reports, maintain project documentation, and manage required administrative tasks

Necessary Requirements:

- Have a minimum of 5 years' site-based construction management experience
- Possess a 3rd level qualification in construction or engineering, or a strong trade background
- Proven experience managing subcontractors and direct teams
- Experience working on large-scale construction projects; hyperscale data centre experience a distinct advantage
- Excellent communication, leadership, and organisational skills
- Strong time management abilities and a results-oriented mindset
- Proficiency in Microsoft Office and site reporting tools
- Ability to work in a dynamic, fast-paced international environment
- Demonstrated commitment to quality and safety on previous projects

This is an excellent opportunity for a self-starter, highly motivated individual, within a dynamic, ambitious and market leading company. An excellent remuneration package will be available to the right candidate. Suitable candidates should forward across an updated CV in confidence for the attention of Eoghan Donohoe reruitment@oradeo.com or call me on +353 1 6877188 or 087 7209723.
